

17.03.2020

Dear Colleagues,

17th International Conference 'BLACK SEA GRAIN' is a premiere global event, connecting participants from 50 countries worldwide, thus the safety of delegates is a top priority.

On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization officially announced the worldwide pandemic of the coronavirus COVID-19.

UkrAgroConsult, as the organizer of the 17th International Conference 'BLACK SEA GRAIN', closely monitors the situation associated with the ongoing spread of coronavirus infection.

Currently, Ukraine, like many other countries (Italy, France, Germany, Israel, the USA, etc.), is actively introducing restrictive (quarantine) measures related to localizing the spread of the virus within the country, which will continue until the sanitary epidemiological situation. So, from March 12 to April 3, 2020, Ukraine officially introduced restrictions on holding mass events. Starting March 16, Ukraine will restrict entry of foreign citizens into the country for two weeks.

Considering all the prevailing circumstances, UkrAgroConsult, as the organizer of the 17th International Conference 'BLACK SEA GRAIN', has made a decision to postpone 'BLACK SEA GRAIN' conference from April 22-23, 2020 to September 2-3, 2020 (InterContinental hotel, Kyiv, Ukraine).

Delegate registrations and the booths, which have already been booked and confirmed, will be valid for the new date.

We apologize for the inconvenience the change of date may cause.

Thank you for your understanding and continued support.

Looking forward to welcome you to our event in September.

Stay healthy and safe!

Sincerely,

Sergey Feofilov
